

Introduction

This is the body text of the introduction section on page one. It explains what the document is about in a couple of sentences.

Background

This is the body text of the background section on page two. It continues the discussion started in the introduction.